◆ Manager's Column

By KCRMD District Manager Darrell Windes

Believe it or not, summer is not far away! Even with the snow and cold we experienced in early March, spring is around the corner with summer not far behind. A sure sign of the changing of the seasons on Ken-Caryl Ranch each year is the publication of the Metropolitan District's annual recreation brochure, District Dimensions. This year's edition is inserted into this issue of Life at Ken-Caryl to allow you and your family to start planning for the busy summer months ahead.

As always, the 2015 edition of District Dimensions contains all of the summer programming and activities that are being offered on Ken-Caryl Ranch. From swimming to summer camps to tennis and environmental education opportunities, there is almost surely something for everyone in this year's schedule of upcoming summer activities. A copy of the 2015 District Dimensions is also available on the Ken-Caryl Ranch website at www.ken-carylranh.org.

In bond project news, the design team for the Ranch House, Community Center and Dakota Lodge remodeling projects has been conducting focus group meetings with staff and residents to help identify and plan for the improvements to come. A second Bond Project Community Open House will be held on Wednesday, March 18 from 4:30-7:30 p.m. at the Ranch House. This will be a follow-up to the Community Open House held in February and will allow interested residents to review and comment on the most recent plans emanating from the numerous design meetings with users.

The March 18 Open House is structured on a drop-in basis to allow interested residents to stop by at any point during the three-hour gathering. Free childcare will be available in the Ranch House Recreation Office during the Open House. Please plan to stop by on March 18 to get a glimpse into the future of Ken-Caryl Ranch. Please check the Ken-Caryl Ranch website for all of the most up-to-date information on the bond projects.

◆ Covenant Clips

Green Green Grass of Home

By Community Standards Administrator Rita Saunders

Last summer blessed us with more moisture on a regular basis than most years in our semi-arid climate. As a result, lawns were predominantly green without the benefit of regular watering. On the negative side, weeds flourished and multiplied, resulting in many covenant letters being sent citing poor landscape maintenance. We can't presume a repeat weather performance this year, so water usage will likely increase. Water requirements are an important consideration in any landscape planning, weighing the pros and cons when evaluating turf versus xeriscape or a water feature versus a fire pit.

To maintain the attractive appearance of neighborhoods and display pride of home ownership, now is the time to evaluate and address landscape issues. The growing season is ahead of us, so changes made in the spring can become established to better withstand dry days of scorching summer heat and - in the not too distant future beyond that - brutal subzero temperatures and piles of snow.

After determining where your problem landscape areas have historically been each year, here are some things to consider when planning to refurbish your landscape:

- Are there dry lawn areas despite watering – possibly mite infestation or lawn disease?
- Were hours spent weeding rock areas because landscape fabric has disintegrated over the years or soil deposited on top of the weed barrier is providing a bed for new growth?
- Have your shrubs grown out of control, with a good portion of the interior showing dead branches?
- Do you have trees that are waning and are more of an eyesore than an asset?
- Are there hardscape features that are crumbling or cracked, such as retaining walls, patios or walkways?

A wealth of information is available at local nurseries or on CSU Extension's website at www.ext.colostate.edu. A hasty computer search may lead to advice not specifically suited for our climate and growing conditions. The CSU site offers great tips for plant selection and care, timely regional landscape issues and Master Gardener articles on a variety of topics.

I'm hoping this has inspired some changes that will result in compliments for you instead of complaints to me. To sum up with a timely Irish phrase in honor of St. Patrick's Day: "You'll never plough a field by turning it over in your mind."

◆ Ken-Caryl Garden Tour

Call for Gardens for Summer 2015

Submitted by Krista Rahe

The Ken-Caryl Ranch Garden Tour Committee is planning a tour of residents' gardens (tentative date of July 11), and the committee is looking for gardens to be part of the tour. The ideal garden would showcase all flowers or a combination of flowers/vegetables and should be aesthetically pleasing. Various themed gardens could also be of interest to tour participants (rock gardens, water gardens, habitat gardens, etc.).

The tour will be a fundraiser to build portable, wheeled garden beds for rehab/nursing facilities. The committee will place a 2015 pilot garden at Care Meridian on Bowles Ave. in honor of Nina Forgo who lived there after her severe stroke and found great joy and healing during her time spent working with plants. This year's event will raise funds to place other gardens at other area nursing facilities in future years as funds become available so that this healing method can be spread to others.

If you have such a garden or know of one in Ken-Caryl, please email Krista Rahe at krahe@raheservices.com by March 31 with your name, address and contact information. Please attach photos of your garden from previous years, or give a description of what would make your garden a good addition to the garden tour.

Those who own the gardens chosen will be asked to attend one or two planning meetings and to be at your garden on the day of the tour to answer questions about it and share your gardening expertise. If you have any questions, please call Krista at 303-810-5061.

Bond Projects Open House

Submitted by Paul Camp, Vanir Construction Management

The Ranch House, Community Center and Dakota Lodge focus groups have now met on three separate occasions with the architects from Sink Combs Dethlefs. These very productive sessions have confirmed and clarified many of the high-priority projects identified long ago by the Community Planning Committee. This has allowed the architects to narrow the universe of design concepts under consideration and will allow them to share the leading concepts for each campus with residents at a second open house scheduled from 4:30-7:30 p.m. on March 18 at the Ranch House Adult Lounge. This session will afford residents the opportunity to comment on the preferred conceptual designs for each campus before the architects move into the next, more-detailed phases of design. Once again, the Metropolitan District will offer free childcare at the open house. Please mark your calendar.

In addition to the progress on concept designs for the Ranch House, Community Center and Dakota Lodge, considerable work has been accomplished on the bond projects related to parks, playgrounds, landscaping and signs. Specifically, the first phase of entrance and directional signs is just about ready to begin. Check out the Bond and Improvement Projects page of the Ken-Caryl Ranch website to view the designs for the new "family" of entrance and directional signs. Also, the focus group responsible for guiding this category of work has recommended that the Saddlewood, Territory and Bradford Park playgrounds be the first three playgrounds to be completely "rebuilt" with bond funds. Each play area will include a new play structure, irrigation and landscaping. Watch this column for further details.

Please email bondprojects@kcranch.org with any questions or comments.

◆ Ranger Field Notes

Coyote Sightings on the Rise

By Open Space Ranger Gary Norton

It is that time of year when residents begin to see coyote activity in open space and along greenbelts. Coyotes are currently establishing territories and den sites. Coyotes breed during February and March and give birth in April and May.

Park Rangers will answer any questions and explain biology and behavior including hazing tactics to deter coyotes and encourage residents to be alert while recreating in open space. For more information, call the Park Rangers at 303-979-1876, ext. 170.

The following information is taken from the Colorado Parks and Wildlife brochure, Your Guide to Avoiding Human Coyote Conflicts.

What do coyotes look like?

- Brownish-gray with a light gray to reddish cream-colored belly
- Slender muzzle
- Bushy tail
- Typically weigh between 20 to 50 pounds
- Often appear heavier due to a thick, double coat of fur

What attracts coyotes to your neighborhood?

While coyotes are found throughout the west, they are extremely adaptable and can thrive in urban areas. Up to 70 percent of a coyote's diet consists of small mammals, and the remaining 30 percent is a combination of fruits, vegetables, insects, fish, birds, eggs and other available items. In urban areas, coyotes also prey on rats, squirrels, garbage, fallen fruit/berries from trees and small pets. The following list illustrates some of the attractants that draw coyotes close to people. Remove these attractants to discourage coyotes from visiting your property:

- Outdoor pet food or water

- Birdseed or food sources that attract small mammals
- Accessible garbage or compost
- Fallen fruit or berries from trees or shrubs
- Shrubs, woodpiles, decks or any other structure that can provide cover or be used as a den.

How can you protect your pet?

It can be difficult to accept, but pets can be seen as a food source to coyotes, and large dogs can be seen as a threat or possible mate. Reduce the risk to your pet by following these guidelines:

Cat Owners:

The only way to guarantee your cat's safety is to keep it indoors. Outdoor cats also face potential death from cars, diseases, foxes, parasites, raccoons, dogs and birds of prey such as owls.

Dog Owners:

- Always supervise your pet outside, especially at dawn and dusk.
- Keep your dog on a short leash while recreating; avoid retractable leashes.
- Do not allow your dog to play or interact with a coyote.
- If possible, pick up your dog when coyotes are visible.
- Avoid known or potential den sites and thick vegetation.
- Like domestic dogs, coyotes will defend their territory and their young.
- If you must leave your dog outside, secure it in a fully enclosed kennel.

When are coyotes a risk to you?

Although naturally curious, coyotes are usually timid animals and normally run away if confronted. Coyote attacks on humans are rare. In many cases these attacks occur as a result of people feeding coyotes. Coyotes have adequate food supplies and are capable of surviving without our help. A coyote that associates humans with food may become demanding and aggressive. A coyote that bites a person must be destroyed. By feeding coyotes, you put yourself, the neighborhood and coyotes at risk. It is unlawful to feed or intentionally attract coyotes in most urban areas.

Do what you can to discourage a coyote's approach.

- Be as big and loud as possible.
 - Wave your arms, clap and throw objects at the coyote.
 - Shout in a loud and authoritative voice.
 - Do not run or turn your back on the coyote.
 - Face the coyote and back away slowly.
- Teach your children
- Never approach wild animals or dogs you don't know!
 - If a coyote approaches you, wave your arms, stomp your feet and tell it loudly to go away!
 - Call for help.
 - If the animal doesn't leave, walk out of the area, keeping the animal in your sight.

For more wildlife information or to report the feeding of coyotes or their aggressive behavior toward humans, please contact the Colorado Parks and Wildlife, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., by calling 303-291-7227. After hours, call Colorado State Patrol at 303-239-4501. Information is also available at www.wildlife.state.co.us.

Ken-Caryl Ranch Historical Society has Active Year in 2014

Submitted by Jeff Allison, Historical Society

Dressed in period costumes, the Historical Society created a festive mood and period ambience to celebrate KCR100, the celebration of 100 Years of Ken-Caryl Ranch. Photo Credit: Eric Linnemann

The volunteer members of the Ken-Caryl Ranch Historical Society had an active year and completed a number of interesting projects in 2014.

KCR100, the celebration of 100 years of Ken-Caryl Ranch, occupied a major portion of our year. The celebration recognized the initial purchase on Oct. 17, 1914, of part of the land that became Ken-Caryl Ranch.

On Aug. 8, a "Meet and Greet," sponsored by former owner Johns Manville (1971-1990) and hosted by the Historical Society, honored descendants of past owners James Adams Perley (1895-1926), John C. Shaffer (1914-1933) and A. T. "Cap" McDannald (1949-1971). Jefferson County Commissioners Casey Tighe and Don Rosier presented a proclamation recognizing the 100 years to Valerie Walling, president of the Master Association Board, and Bob Generoli, president of the Metro District Board.

The Manor House generously opened its doors to residents on Aug. 9, and attendance was estimated at almost 500. Sponsors, including the Manor House, helped make the event possible: Susan Schell-RE/MAX Professionals, DD Harder Properties-Metro Brokers, Diana and Mike Dargen-Nothing Bundt Cakes, and an anonymous ice cream donor. Activities included period games and music, antique vehicles, a vintage clothing show, mule-drawn wagon rides and posters, slideshows, videos depicting Ken-Caryl Ranch history and more.

The Historical Society has a number of ongoing projects intended to promote awareness and appreciation for Ken-Caryl Ranch's historical and archaeological sites and to protect and preserve those sites.

We are responsible for maintaining the Bradford-Perley House and have a recurring program to inspect and repair the stones, joints and mortar to keep up with the natural deterioration. We nominated the house for the National Register of Historic Places, and the nomination was approved at the national level on Feb. 2.

Another long-standing project is the care and maintenance of the Bradford Apple Orchard, which was planted by Maj. Robert B. Bradford, circa 1870. The project includes planting new trees, grown from cuttings of the old, established trees, to ensure the health and continuing existence of the orchard.

We have created videos describing individual historical events, places and people on Ken-Caryl Ranch. Videos on the Bradford-Perley House, the Perley family, John C. Shaffer (Manor House) and the prehistoric archaeology of Ken-Caryl Ranch have been produced and placed on ken-carylranh.org.

The Historical Society also conducts interviews to capture facts and past memories of those who were a part of the history of Ken-Caryl Ranch. Visit the website and go to "Community & News" to "History of Ken-Caryl Ranch" to "Historical Videos" and to a link to the Jeffco Library (jcpl.coalition.org) for the oral histories.

Presently, we are repairing and refurbishing a pump house on North Massey Draw to preserve the building, which is a part of the ranching history of Ken-Caryl Ranch. To irrigate crops, water was pumped from the creek directly under the pump house and transported to holding tanks. The pump house is located south of the Valley Parkway along the path between the Deer Creek and Bridlegate communities. Major structural repairs are complete and work will be completed in the spring. Brian Tennant of Tennant Roofing replaced the roof at no cost. Thank you, Brian.

The Historical Society thanks the KCRMA and KCRMD Boards of Directors, Chris Pacetti, Darrell Windes, the Open Space Committee, the Ken-Caryl Ranch

Foundation and the KCRMA Ranger Staff for their support in 2014. Most of all, thank you to the KCR residents for providing the support needed to accomplish projects.

The Historical Society is always looking for new members. We meet the third Wednesday of January, April, July and October at 2 p.m. at the Ranch House. The next quarterly meeting will be on Wednesday, April 15. If interested, please call Rose Lewis at lewisrosepe@gmail.com.

• Minding Our Business

Canadian Meds USA

By Community Relations Director Victoria DeSair

Don and Jo-Ann Bozarth own an online pharmacy called Canadian Meds USA.

Don and Jo-Ann Bozarth have lived in the Aspen Meadows neighborhood on Ken-Caryl Ranch for 35 years. In 2001, they started their own business out of their home, an online pharmacy called Canadian Meds USA.

Canadian Meds USA assists its customers in obtaining safe, high-quality prescription drugs (both brand name and generic), often at a substantial savings, from regulated sources around the world. Prescriptions from a licensed doctor are required for all orders. All medications are shipped directly to the customers (free of any shipping charge). While orders are fulfilled by the company's primary affiliate pharmacy, Canadian Meds USA provides an additional layer of continuous and personalized customer service to its customers that is not available through other online pharmacy websites.

"Back in 2001, Jo-Ann's mother, Kay, found herself in need of several high-priced medications," said Don. "At that time, Medicaid D (for partial prescription drug coverage) did not yet exist. We had heard some news stories about online pharmacies starting up in Canada, and we began to check into the options available to see if we could help Kay save some money. After doing considerable research, we placed a couple of prescription medication orders with an online pharmacy based in Calgary, Alberta. Her medication arrived promptly, manufactured by the same pharmaceutical company as her medication obtained from her local pharmacy – and cost half as much."

Don said after this experience, they decided to do some additional research to understand the underlying reasons why medications obtained from outside the U.S. are generally less expensive than those obtained inside the U.S. He said the U.S. traditionally prides itself on being a free-market economy and does not have price controls on the cost of prescription medications.

"Jo-Ann and I quickly realized that a great many people in the U.S. could benefit tremendously from using this option, just as Kay did, and we formed CMUSA in October 2001 in order to become a U.S.-based affiliate of the online pharmacy in Calgary. Jo-Ann and I both felt that this was an opportunity to help make people's necessary medications more affordable."

Canadian Meds USA does not accept insurance. Customers who choose to pay by personal check or money order receive a 4 percent discount on the price of their medications, in addition to the already discounted price.

For more information about Canadian Meds USA, visit canadianmedsusa.com or call 1-877-933-0505. You can also email the company at customerservice@canadianmedsusa.com.

Ken-Caryl Little League Gives Back

Submitted by Tom Newman, Ken-Caryl Little League

Despite the recent snowstorms, spring is rapidly approaching. With spring, baseball season will begin and Ken-Caryl will be besieged by young baseball players practicing and playing on area ball fields such as Community Park, the Ranch House and Shaffer Elementary.

Those teams are largely from the area Little League organization known as Ken-Caryl Little League (KCLL). Now playing in its second decade of baseball in the community, KCLL is more than just a youth sports program. Leveraging sponsorship donations from area businesses, KCLL has reinvested tens of thousands of dollars in improvements to area baseball fields. The improvements can be seen in the form of dugouts at Community Park, field conditions at Shaffer Elementary, and landscape grading and equipment improvements at a half dozen area schools.

KCLL is actively planning to make additional improvements in 2015 at both Mortensen Elementary and Columbine Hills Elementary. These improvements benefit the school by providing quality ball fields for school-day activities. In return for the investment, KCLL is permitted to affordably rent the space to conduct their spring and fall baseball programs.

KCLL invites you to participate in the league as a player, volunteer or sponsor. We have baseball programs for players of all skill levels from ages 4 to 13. When you join Ken-Caryl Little League, you not only get the benefits of baseball and sportsmanship, but you help the organization invest in our community parks and schools. Check out the organization at kcllbaseball.com.

Spring baseball will soon be starting for Ken-Caryl Little League.

Local Gymnast Excels

Jessica Schroeder, daughter of Jacqueline and Jake Schroeder and sister of Blake Schroeder of Barrington Ridge, competed in the National Judges Cup Gymnastics Championships in Montgomery, Alabama on Jan. 10.

The meet capped off Jessica's 2014 USAG Level 5 gymnastics season. Jessica began the 2014 competitive season in Level 4. At the Level 4 season opener meet, she scored a perfect 10 on her floor routine, ranking her No. 1 in the nation in that event and placed first in all-around competition. She then moved up to Level 5.

During her Level 5 season, Jessica placed first in all-around competition at every meet but two.

At the Colorado Judges Cup qualifying meet, Jessica's cumulative score qualified her as one of the top five gymnasts in Colorado, earning her a spot on the Colorado All Stars team and an all-expense paid trip to compete in the National Judges Cup Championships.

Jessica traveled to the meet with her family and her coach, Stanley Chinyerere from 5280 Gymnastics, where she competed against other top-scoring gymnasts from around the country, and gained her first national meet experience. Jessica placed first on her floor, vault and beam routines and first in all-around competition.

To top off the experience, the Colorado All Star team placed first in Level 5 for the entire meet. Jessica has now moved into the Level 6 optional competition season, and placed first in all-around competition in her first meet. She expects to begin training in Level 7 optionals this spring. Go Jessica!

We had CCW install one brand new window and relocate an existing window in another wall of our home. He had everything from the demolition to the drywalling scheduled down to the "T." We were very pleased with how well everything went and the final result was nothing short of exceptional! The new windows add not only character but value to our home. We highly recommend Colorado Classic Windows and plan on using them when we replace our two patio sliders with new swing style. Preston's a man of his word and stands behind his work. Local KC Equestrian Team Qualifies for Regional Finals

Submitted by Joy Aden, Bradford Place

Six riders of the Mile High Equestrian Team will compete in Gilbert, Arizona, at the Interscholastic Equestrian Association (IEA) Zone 8 finals to be held early this month. This is Mile High's third year competing in the IEA organization.

This team is comprised of equestrians who compete in the hunter/jumper disciplines and represents riders from Ken-Caryl Equestrian Center and Castle Cliff Farms under the guidance of the team coaches, Lindsay Wilner and Wendy DeRosia. The high school team and several individual riders qualified to advance to the Zone 8 Final competition by high placement at the Regional show on Feb. 21 in Fountain, Colorado.

IEA was formed and organized to promote and improve the quality of equestrian competition and instruction available to middle and high school students. There will be a maximum of 12 riders per class at Zone Finals in Arizona, and the champion and reserve champion per class will advance to the 2015 Hunt Seat National Finals in Wellington, Florida, April 24-26. This is the third year the team has qualified for regionals and hopefully marks a second national attendance! To learn more about the IEA program, please check out the rideiea.org website!

Winter is for the Birds

Environmental Education Specialist Gabrielle Chisholm

Although winter can be harsh and provide a scarce food source for wildlife, many species are toughing it out and are offering many beautiful opportunities for us humans to observe them. According to Colorado Parks & Wildlife, "Winter offers wildlife viewing opportunities that are not found at any other time of the year. As the snow deepens in the high country the animals move to wintering grounds in lower elevations and valley bottoms. Animals you can see in winter include moose, deer and furbearers such as marten, ermine and perhaps a rare glimpse of bobcat or cougar. Birds abound in this icy wonderland—jays, woodpeckers, chickadees, nuthatches, sparrows, finches and siskens are among the most common birds seen during winter in Colorado."

Ken-Caryl Ranch is no exception! Many of these animals can be seen in residents'

backyards. So, why not take up backyard birding? Backyard birding is a great way to view birds from the comfort of your own home, especially in the winter. Now that the deciduous trees are missing their leaves, you may be able to spot different species of birds better.

Next, maybe you can record the birds you know. How many did you see? If this fancies you, maybe you can start trying to identify the birds you don't know, either by their song or their physical characteristics. There are many resources available to help identify birds, but first try to start with a local checklist or field guides of western North America so that you are not deciphering between birds that don't even live here. Eventually you will start to recognize birds on your own and will feel a sense of accomplishment. Happy birding!

Check out these websites to learn more about birding: www.cpw.state.co.us, www.birds.cornell.edu or www.birdingwithmike.com.

Colored pencil artist Dorothy DePaulo will be featured at the Thursday, March 12 meeting of the Ken-Caryl Art Guild at Rox Bar & Grill, 12684 W Indore Place in Littleton. Her presentation will take place at 7 p.m. following the regularly scheduled business meeting at 6 p.m.

Dorothy was born and has lived most of her life in Colorado. From early childhood it had always been her dream to be an artist, but it wasn't until she had worked many years as a registered nurse that she had the opportunity to attend the Colorado Institute of Art where she majored in graphic design.

Dorothy said, "One of my greatest pleasures is making an idea come to life on my drawing board or easel. When my work is going well, I lose all sense of time and place. I'm totally immersed in a world of color, light, form and design. Ideas seem to come from somewhere beyond me, and I just follow them where they take me. When I'm done for the day, I feel at peace with the world."

Though drawing is essential in her layout and design, Dorothy doesn't consider what she does with colored pencils to be drawing.

"Just as many people draw with a paintbrush, I paint with a colored pencil. I seldom use lines. I apply layer after layer of color to make the forms and contours that make up the finished piece," Dorothy said.
